MUDA 50:50 sites allotment scam investigation

Lokayukta issues notices to 40 site allottees

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (BLU&BCT)- After causing sleepless nights for several politicians who faced public allegations, accusations and a series of Court cases in connection with the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) 50:50 sites allotment scam, the investigation has now turned towards other beneficiaries of the scheme.

Probe intensified into 1,055 sites; 134 beneficiaries identified so far, says Lokayukta SP T.J. Udesh

The Mysuru Lokayukta Police have begun issuing notices to owners of sites allotted under the 50:50 scheme, through which land losers receive developed sites after surrendering land to MUDA for layout formation. Notices have already been served on more than 40 individuals who acquired such sites.

Investigators have prepared 134 case files and have been issuing notices over the past two months. More notices are expected as additional files are examined in cases where irregularities are suspected, sources said.

Fed up with the corruption in this 50:50 scheme, State Govt. rebranded MUDA as MDA.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE TREE OF DHARMA: The Mahabharata has 18 parvas. The Kurukshetra war took place for 18 days and the Bhagavad Gita has 18 chapters, pointed out Thenthirupperai Aravindalochanan in a discourse. The Mahabharata epic itself may be seen as a tree. It is as if dharma itself took the form of a tree. The seed of this tree is the Anukramanika parva. The roots of this tree are the Pauloma parva and the Asthika parva. The trunk of the tree is the Sambhava parva. The Sabha parva is symbolic of the birds that nest in a tree. The Bhishma parva and the Vana parva are the branches of this tree. The Drona parva represents the leaves and the Karna parva represents the flowers. The Virata parva and the Udhyoga parva are the sap of the tree.

The Salya parva is the fragrance of the flowers that blossom on this tree. The Stri parva is the tip of the branches. The Shanti parva is equivalent to the fruits of this tree of dharma, because the purpose of studying the Mahabharata is to attain shanti (peace of mind). The Asvamedha parva is representative of the juice of the fruits. The Ashrama vasa parva is the food of the birds. The Mausala parva is the sound made by the birds in the tree. Those who explain the meaning of the Mahabharata, those who listen to such explanations and those who adhere to dharma — these people are the protectors of this tree. The 18 parvas of the Mahabharata track the entire story of the Pandavas and their rivals, the Kauravas, from the early years, the treachery of Duryodhana, the exile of the Pandavas, the Kurukshetra war, Lord Krishna's advice to Arjuna through the Gita and Bhishma's teachings through the Vishnu Sahasranama. The Gita is in the Bhishma parva and the Vishnu Sahasranama is in the Anusasanika parva. The Shanti parva is full of valuable lessons for everyone on dharma. — In The Hindu

The record-keeping organization said it reviewed evidence confirming the female snake measures 23 feet and 8 inches in length.

Flamboyant bike decoration culture

Tokyo: Dekochari is a bicycle decoration movement specific to Japan and that is characterised by the use of plywood, chrome plating, elaborate light displays and hi-fi audio systems.

Dekochari can be traced back to the 1970s, when Japan's Dekotora truck decoration trend started gaining traction. Unable to unleash their creative decorating talent on trucks, kids started adapting the same general style to their bicycles, and they ended up creating their very own culture. Dekochari thrived right alongside dekotora, but as the trucks' excessive lighting and extra weight started posing legal problems to drivers, both cultures kind of faded from the roads of Japan, and today dekochari bikes are considered rarities.

Most owners of decked-out Japanese bicycles are teenagers or young adults who grew up fascinated by the designs and light shows of dekotora trucks. As getting their hands on their own trucks was impossible, they settled for a bike instead.

VOICE OF THE READER

An open letter to City Police Commr.

Madam Commissioner,

Mysuru has long taken pride in being different — calmer, cultured and safer than most cities of comparable size. That belief, however, is now being tested — not by rumours or social media panic, but by a visible and deeply unsettling rise in violent crime, anti-social activities and an unrelenting drug menace.

This open letter is written not out of hostility, but out of genuine civic concern.

Recent murders, repeated attempts to murder and the increasing brazenness of criminal elements are no longer isolated incidents. They are symptoms of a larger breakdown in deterrence.

Citizens are no longer merely reading crime reports; they are adjusting daily routines, restricting movement and living with a quiet but persistent fear.

That should concern all of us.

Questions that deserve public answers

As the Police Commissioner of Mysuru, you are accountable not only to the system but to every citizen who steps out trusting the law to protect them. In that spirit, the following questions merit clarity:

- What concrete preventive measures has the Police Department implemented in response to the recent spate of murders and violent crimes? Investigations after incidents are essential — but prevention is the true measure of effective policing.
- Why do known anti-social elements continue to operate openly in certain areas? Many offenders are familiar faces to residents. Why does enforcement appear reactive rather than sustained?
- What is the Department's long-term strategy to dismantle the drug network? Arrests are announced, yet drugs remain easily accessible — especially to the youth. Where is the disruption of supply chains?
- How does the Department justify the persistent staff shortage? Overworked personnel, delayed response times and thin night patrols are increasingly common citizen experiences.
- Why has the Udayagiri Police Station still not been operationalised? In a sensitive and densely populated area, delays in strengthening policing infrastructure only heightens public anxiety.

These are not political questions. They are questions of public safety.

Here are some suggestions from a concerned citizen (offered in the interest of collective safety and well-being):

Restore fear of the law through visibility

Foot patrols, bike patrols and consistent beat policing — especially during late evenings — must become routine. Criminals fear presence more than punishment.

Make prevention the priority, not publicity

Monitoring history-sheeters, tracking repeat offenders and acting on intelligence before crimes occur will save lives. Arrests after murders may make headlines, but they do not prevent tragedy.

Treat the drug crisis as an emergency

The drug problem demands sustained, intelligence-led operations — not sporadic raids. Schools, colleges, lodges, bars and transport hubs require continuous monitoring. Informers must feel protected, not exposed.

Rebuild trust through genuine community policing

Ward-level Police-Citizen meetings with documented follow-ups can restore confidence. Clearly identified Nodal Officers for each locality would improve accountability and communication.

Address manpower burnout transparently

Until recruitment gaps are filled, smarter deployment, better shift management and technology-driven policing must compensate for shortages.

Protect the most vulnerable first

Women, children and senior citizens must feel safe after dusk. If they do not, the system is failing — regardless of crime statistics.

Embrace transparency as strength

Regular public updates on crime trends, actions taken and operational challenges will build trust. Citizens can accept limitations — but not silence.

Mysuru at a crossroads

Madam Commissioner, this city must never wake up to say, "Mysuru used to be safe." Fear should not become normal and crime must not fade into the background noise.

Leadership is defined not only by how efficiently crimes are solved, but by how effectively they are prevented.

This letter is an appeal from a citizen who believes Mysuru deserves better and that its Police force, with urgency and intent, is capable of delivering it. The city is watching. More importantly, the city is hoping.

Respectfully,

— Anthony Haslaunger Willi,
A concerned citizen

Funds for Consumer Rights awareness remain unused

Concerns raised over awareness grant of Rs. 80 lakh lying idle in DC's account

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (SPN&BCT)- Funds reserved in the Deputy Commissioner's account for consumer rights and legal awareness programmes are not being utilised, raising concerns that they could be misused.

Mysuru District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission President Naveen Kumari voiced this suspicion at the monthly meeting of the Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) held at Yadavagiri on Sunday.

The meeting was held under the Chairmanship of MGP Working President S.K. Dinesh.

While explaining the importance of the Consumer Protection Act and its applications, Naveen Kumari stressed the need to spread awareness in schools, colleges and villages.

She noted that although the Commission itself lacks funds, over Rs. 80 lakh has been earmarked in the Deputy Commissioner's account for such awareness programs. However, the funds are not being released or properly utilised. Naveen Kumari warned that this negligence could lead to a major scandal in the future.

She further explained that the State Government releases grants every year to mark World Consumer Rights Day on March 15, but district-level authorities are not disbursing these funds. The Commission has requested the State Consumer Redressal Commission to allocate separate grants for infrastructure development.

Participants at the MGP meeting on Consumer Rights held at its office in Yadavagiri on Sunday.

DDPI Uday Kumar highlighted that with over 3,500 schools in the district, awareness about consumer rights can be introduced from Class 6. He emphasised that colleges should also play a key role, as parents entrust students with financial responsibilities, making it essential for them to understand consumer laws.

MGP launched the celebration of World Consumer Rights Day by asking attendees to complete a 13-question questionnaire.

The meeting was attended by representatives from various institutions, including Principal of Excel Public School K.G. Mathew, Lions Sevaniketan's Dr. Karumbaiah, JSS Law College's Pranab Nair, Vidyavardhaka Law College's Dr. Prakruthi, P. Rakesh, D.V. Dayananda Sagar, Malavika Gubbivani and others.

Only 31 of 1,895 cases settled within 90 days in Mysuru

A stimulating debate took place between Mysuru District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission President Naveen Kumari and the MGP Founder-President Dr. Bhamy V. Shenoy on how consumer fora across India have begun functioning like civil courts, contrary to the original intent of the Consumer Protection Act of 1986, comprehensively amended in 2019.

Of the 1,895 cases disposed of between 2023 and 2025 in Mysuru, only 31 were settled within the mandated 90 days, 98 were resolved in person and just four were settled without adjournments. The Forum President maintained that faster disposal was not feasible, while Shenoy contended that long experience in regular courts may make quicker resolution difficult.

Naveen Kumari discussed the recent rule mandated by the Consumer Affairs Ministry from April 1, 2023. As per the rule, e-filing was implemented for convenience, easy accessibility, speedier processing, virtual hearing and paperless processing.

For rural people Gram Panchayat Seva Kendras are expected to help. E-filing also promotes less need for lawyers.

Bone Marrow Transplant Unit launched at Bharath Cancer Hospital

State-of-the-art facility sponsored by BRBNMPL under its CSR initiative

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (KS)- Mysuru's first-ever Bone Marrow Transplant (BMT) Unit was launched at Bharath Hospital and Institute of Oncology (BHIO - Bharath Cancer Hospital) yesterday bringing advanced haematology and oncology services closer to patients.

The state-of-the-art facility, established at BHIO in Hebbal, is sponsored by Bharatiya Reserve Bank Note Mudran (P) Limited (BRBNMPL), Mysuru, under its CSR initiative.

Until now, patients from Mysuru and surrounding districts had to travel to Bengaluru for BMT procedures, often facing high treatment costs, prolonged waiting periods and significant emotional and logistical strain.

The BMT Unit was inaugurated by Kumar Rakesh Gupta, Senior General Manager of BRBNMPL and Dr. B.S. Ajaikumar, Chairman of BHIO.

Bone Marrow Transplantation is a highly specialised, life-saving procedure in which damaged or diseased blood-forming stem cells are replaced with healthy ones from the patient or a compatible donor. It is a critical treatment option for patients with blood cancers such as leukaemia, lymphoma and multiple myeloma, as well as select genetic and immune-related disorders.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Ajaikumar said that the new unit adheres to stringent international standards of sterility and infection control, ensuring the highest levels of patient safety and clinical outcomes.

"With this BMT Unit, BHIO now stands shoulder to shoulder with leading global cancer centres. Patients here will receive the same quality of care available in the most advanced countries," he added besides stating that the facility would greatly reduce the financial and emotional burden on families.

Dr. Ajaikumar also expressed gratitude to the BRBNMPL, calling the project one of the most significant CSR collaborations.

Kumar Rakesh Gupta of BRBNMPL, who also spoke, said the organisation's CSR philosophy focuses on creating sustainable, long-term social impact rather than charity alone.

He noted that Bharath Cancer Hospital was chosen for its credibility, proven capability and long-standing trust in society.

Highlighting the acute need for a BMT facility in Mysuru, he said the BRBNMPL approved Rs 1.70 crore for the project.

With the launch of this first-of-its-kind facility, BHIO has ushered in a new era of comprehensive and advanced cancer care in Mysuru, ensuring that critical, life-saving treatment is now accessible for needy people and also closer to home.

Dr. Y.S. Madhavi, Chief Radiation Oncologist and Medical Superintendent; Dr. C.B. Avinash, Chief Medical Oncologist at BHIO; Dr. Nataraj, Consultant Haemato Oncologist and Bone Marrow Transplant Physician; Dr. K.N. Santosh Kumar, Consultant Haemato Oncologist and Bone Marrow Transplant Physician; Dr. G.H. Abhilash, Senior Consultant Medical Oncologist; Dr. Sowmya, Consultant Paediatric Haematologist and Oncologist; Gowtham Dhamerla, COO at BHIO; K. Dinakar, BRBNMPL General Manager; Dinesh Kumar Anand, BRBNMPL General Manager; Mohit Agarwal, BRBNMPL Manager and M.P. Ravi, Process Assistant at BRBNMPL, were present during the launch.

Mass rendition of Hanuman Chalisa in city on Feb. 14

Seating arrangements will be made for more than 30,000 devotees: Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji

Sri Ganapathy Swamiji seen releasing pamphlets of Hanuman Chalisa during the press meet at the Ashram in city this morning as former MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, BJP leader Cable Mahesh and others look on.

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (MTY&BS)- Avadhoota Datta Peetham, Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashram, has organised Hanuman Chalisa Parayana Mahayagna, a mass rendition of Hanuman Chalisa, on Feb. 14 at 9 am at Maharaja's College Grounds in the city.

Addressing media persons at the premises of Karya Siddhi Hanuman temple, within the precincts of Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashram here this morning, Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji, who has successfully conducted the similar event in other States said, 'in the morning session, Hanuman Chalisa will be rendered in Hindi, followed by Kannada session in the evening, which will be conducted by the Sri Swamiji himself.

A total of 30,000 seating arrangements have been made, with a pandal measuring 170x800 feet to be erected for the event. Mass feeding has been arranged for 45,000 people, with various institutions chipping in with monetary contributions and donating essential items. A saffron colour thread will be distributed to all the participants on the day,' the Swamiji added.

The devotees are expected to turn up in large numbers as the day of the event falls on the eve of Mahashivarathri, Swamiji said.

Explaining about the reason behind organising Hanuman Chalisa, Swamiji said that, Hanuman resembles Lord Shiva. He embodies the spirit of Lord Shiva and Vishnu and revered as the Brahma of the future.

At Vishakapatnam, 130 feet tall statue of Hanuman will be installed, while 43 temples of Lord Hanuman has been established in various parts of the world. Rama and Hanuman share a special bond in relation to Karnataka, Swamiji added.

The Hanuman Chalisa is rendered in Kashi, as Saint Tulsidas wrote Hanuman Chalisa in the same place. It is becoming popular year after year, the Swamiji said.

As a publicity initiative of Hanuman Chalisa, a vehicle modified as a chariot is being taken around the city, said Swamiji, who released the pamphlets of the forthcoming event on the occasion.

JSS STU signs MoU for BEST Centre of Excellence

Mysuru, Feb. 10 - In a significant step towards strengthening industry-academia collaboration, JSS Science and Technology University (JSS STU), Mysuru, signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Bajaj Auto Ltd., Pune, to establish a Bajaj Engineering Skills Training (BEST) Centre of Excellence (CoE) on the JSS STU Mysuru campus.

BEST is the flagship Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiative of Bajaj Auto Ltd., focused on bridging the gap between academic education and industry expectations through hands-on, industry-aligned engineering skill development.

The proposed Centre of Excellence will be equipped with state-of-the-art laboratories, advanced infrastructure and industry-grade equipment, with curricula jointly designed by JSS STU faculty and Senior Engineers from Bajaj.

The Centre will emphasise experiential learning through real-time industrial exposure, expert lectures, mentoring and project-based training. Special focus will also be placed on supporting students from socially and economically weaker sections by providing access to sustainable skill-building pathways and employment opportunities.

Speaking at the MoU signing ceremony recently, Dr. C.G. Betsurmath, Executive Secretary, JSS Mahavidyapeetha, said the collaboration would play a transformative role in enhancing students' practical skills and industry readiness, in line with the institution's mission of empowering youth with future-centric competencies.

Prof. Suresh, Director of Technical Education, JSS STU, reaffirmed the University's long-term commitment to industry-driven skill development and stated that JSS STU would extend full support not only for establishing the BEST Centre, but also for setting up additional Centres of Excellence and Skill Hubs in the future for the benefit of students from all JSS Group of institutions as well.

Addressing the gathering, Ravi Kyran Ramasamy, Chief Human Resource Officer of Bajaj Auto Ltd., highlighted his long-standing association with JSS STU and noted that the University's strong value system, discipline and outcome-oriented learning closely align with Bajaj Auto's ethos of integrity, excellence and inclusive growth.

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (MK&BS)- Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) Chairman Ayub Khan said that it is intended to develop Dasara Exhibition grounds as a major heritage tourist destination, without restricting the activities to Dasara alone.

He was speaking after expressing his gratitude to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, for extending his tenure, at a felicitation programme organised in his honour by the Presidents of various organisations and associations at KEA premises in the city yesterday.

tourist spot, by including various attractions, beyond Dasara. The exhibition premises has been already given a facelift on traditional lines. "Apart from being a major tourist attraction, Dasara Exhibition is the major commercial hub for business transactions, generating several employment opportunities. Likewise, throughout the year, programmes will be organised to financially benefit the economically weaker labourers," he said.

PRASHAD works atop Chamundi Hill

MP visits site, assures to take up issue in Delhi

- Project work continues undisturbed
- High Court to hear petition on Feb. 13

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (RK&BCT)- Following a series of protests and strong public opposition to the ongoing works under the Centre's Pilgrimage Rejuvenation and Spiritual Heritage Augmentation Drive (PRASHAD) scheme atop Chamundi Hill, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar visited the Hill on Sunday evening.

He had darshan of Goddess Sri Chamundeshwari and later inspected the construction site. During the visit, he received a petition from the Shree Chamundeshwari Mahabaleshwara Betta Samrakshana Vedike, which has been staging protests against the works, alleging that the construction has deeply hurt the sentiments of lakhs of devotees.

Vedike member Lohit Urs said the construction activity has caused serious damage to the heritage and traditional character of the temple precincts.

Yaduveer Wadiyar assured protesters that he would immediately take up the matter with the authorities concerned in New Delhi and make efforts to halt the present works, while pressing for any future construction to protect the heritage structure and sanctity of the Hill.

High Court hearing

Meanwhile, work atop the Hill has continued even as the Karnataka High Court is set to hear a petition on Feb. 13.

Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, a member of the erstwhile Mysore royal family, has filed the petition challenging the PRASHAD project and submitted documents highlighting its possible impact on the temple.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority Secretary M.J. Roopa said the works are continuing as the High Court has not issued any stay order.

"The contract has been awarded to Bengaluru-based SAS Karkala Enterprises, which is carrying out the work without interruption. While this is a Central project, the land belongs to the Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority and the State Tourism Department is the implementing agency," she said.

Video of child with 'knife' sparks concern

Police clarify it was plastic knife

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (PM&KS)- A video showing a boy holding a knife-like object and attempting to threaten a group of children has gone viral. However, the Police have clarified that the object was a plastic cake-cutting knife and not a real weapon.

The incident, captured on CCTV, appears to show a boy confronting and trying to fight with other children. The footage is said to have been recorded at Shanthinagar under Udayagiri Police limits. The children are believed to be between six and eight years old, and the scene gives the impression of a mock gang-style confrontation.

Udayagiri Police stated that the children were only playing and that the knife-like object was a plastic implement used for cutting cakes. Following an enquiry, the parents of the children were counselled.

1,055 sites between 2016 and 2024

Under the 50:50 scheme, 50 percent of developed sites are allotted to landowners whose properties are acquired by MUDA. A total of 1,055 sites were allotted under the scheme between 2016 and 2024.

The Lokayukta has obtained High Court permission to investigate these allotments. During this period, around 135 landowners and GPA holders are said to have benefited from the 1,055 sites.

Earlier allegations had claimed that irregularities in the allotment process — in violation of land allotment rules — led to losses running into thousands of crores of rupees.

The Lokayukta probe is ongoing, and fresh notices have also been issued to several individuals, including former MUDA Commissioners G.T. Dinesh Kumar and Dr. D.B. Natesh.

The development has created anxiety among beneficiaries of the 50:50 scheme, as well as among those who later sold the sites to others at premium prices.

Probing corruption, rule violation

Confirming the action to Star of Mysore this morning, Mysuru Lokayukta Superintendent of Police T.J. Udesh said notices had been issued both to officials involved in the allotments and to recipients of the sites.

"The process began two months ago. Those who have received notices have been directed to appear for inquiry and provide explanations. The investigation relates to corruption, misallocation and rule violations concerning 1,055 sites. A formal case has been registered, and the probe is in progress," he said.

He added that in some instances, individuals who surrendered land in one area had obtained developed sites in different layouts. In certain cases, landowners received developed sites despite also receiving monetary compensation from MUDA during acquisition, amounting to double compensation in violation of rules.

The SP further said a few individuals had obtained multiple sites across layouts in exchange for the land surrendered. "This is a lengthy process. Each case file requires at least five to six days of examination as investigations are carried out individually," he noted.

A report will be submitted to the Karnataka High Court if irregularities are established, following which the Court will decide on further legal action, he added.

Brisk pace of grade separator construction

The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has commenced brisk construction of a grade separator on the Mysuru–Bengaluru Highway at Kempegowda Circle (Manipal Hospital Junction). The project is estimated at Rs. 120 crore. Excavation has already reached a depth of more than 20 feet at the Bengaluru-bound entry point and similar work will soon be undertaken on the remaining three approaches to the junction.

23 Nations unite to save Big Cats

Intl. Big Cat Alliance Summit opens at Bandipur

Mysuru, Feb. 10 (MTY&BCT)- A five-day International Big Cat Alliance Summit opened at the Bandipur Tiger Reserve last evening, bringing together delegates from 23 major big cat range countries.

As part of the initiative, the Forest Department, in collaboration with the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA), the International Big Cat Alliance (IBCA) and the Union Ministry of External Affairs, is conducting the second Indian Technical and Economic Cooperation (ITEC) course aimed at capacity-building for wildlife and conservation practitioners.

Notably, this is the first time an ITEC course is being held in South India, combining classroom learning with on-ground exposure.

The summit began with an address by IBCA Director General Dr. S.P. Yadav, who highlighted the programme's objectives and its global significance for big cat conservation.

He noted that India has developed robust, science-based conservation strategies for tigers and other big cats, setting an example for the world.

Delegates from over 23 countries, including Russia, Sri Lanka, Nepal, Kenya, Malaysia, Peru, Namibia and Kazakhstan, are participating, with a total of 39 international representatives.

The first day of the course focused on best practices in big cat conservation, covering themes such as active management, protection strategies, smart patrolling systems and technology-enabled wildlife conservation.

Intended to save big cat species

Retired Principal Chief Conservator of Forests Subhash Malkhede said the primary objective of the IBCA is to safeguard the world's big cat species.

"India is home to 70 percent of the world's tigers. The country also has an estimated 14,000 to 15,000 leopards and the lion population is steadily increasing. India stands as a model in big cat conservation," he said.

He further noted that while cheetahs became extinct in India in 1952, reintroduction efforts after nearly 70 years, with animals brought from Namibia and South Africa, have increased the population to 35.

Discussions at the Summit are focusing on strategies to ensure the long-term survival and protection of these species.

Technical sessions, field visits

A session on 'Planning for Big Cat Conservation in India' was presented by Dr. Vaibhav C. Mathur, Deputy Inspector General of Forests at the NTCA, New Delhi. This was followed by a talk on Protection and Law Enforcement Strategies for Big Cat Conservation by Dr. P. Ramesh Kumar, Chief Conservator of Forests, Project Tiger, Karnataka.

Another session on Human-Wildlife Conflict and Leveraging Technology for Forest and Wildlife Management was given by Manoj Rajan, Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (APCCF), Project Elephant.

At the end of the day, participants visited the Tiger Cell at Bandipur Tiger Reserve and the Command and Control Centre, where the latest wildlife-conservation tools and equipment were demonstrated. They also interacted with members of the Elephant Task Force and Leopard Task Force.

Senior officials present included APCCF Biswajeet Mishra, Chamarajanagar CCF Malathi Priya, Bandipur Tiger Project Director S. Prabhakaran and ACF Naveen Kumar.

Auto drivers demand houses under Group Housing Scheme

Mysuru, Feb.10 (GA&DM)- Urging the Government to address their grievances, auto drivers of the city have sought allotment of houses to them under the Group Housing Scheme and other benefits.

Addressing a meeting of Mysuru Samyukta Karnataka Autorickshaw Owners and Drivers Association at the Park opposite the City Law Courts Complex on Krishnaraja Boulevard here recently, Association President M.V. Srinivas Mitra said several representations made to the Chief Minister, Deputy Chief Minister, Transport Minister and other higher authorities seeking redressal of their grievances have gone in vain.

"With the Transport Department authorities instructing to change fare meters following upward fare revision, the auto drivers have to shell out Rs. 2,500 per meter, which is an additional burden on them. Instead, the Government should distribute new fare meters for free. Also, FC (Fitness Certificate) fee hike should be rolled back. The issuance of FC receipt has come to a halt at Hunsur RTO Office for the past few months. This has resulted in a lot of problems for auto drivers and this should be rectified at the earliest," he pointed out.

The other demands included widening of city roads, increase in the number of auto stands in accordance with the rising city population, introduction of financial assistance on the lines of the one in Andhra Pradesh, where auto drivers are paid Rs.15,000 annually under Seva Scheme and medical facilities to the family members of auto drivers.

Samyukta Karnataka Autorickshaw Owners and Drivers Association office-bearers P. Sunil Kumar, G. Prakash, R. Suresh, Sulaiman, Govindaraju, Diwakar, Jagadish Panchamukhi, Lokesh, Kumar, Selvaraj, Sudhan and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Fortuitous

Pronunciation: for-TOO-uh-tus (adjective)

Meaning: Fortuitous is a formal word that usually describes something that comes or happens by a lucky chance. It can also mean "happening by chance" and "fortunate, lucky."

Origin: Before its meaning expanded, fortuitous meant one thing only: "happening by chance." This was no accident; its Latin forebear, fortuitus, shares the same ancient root as fors, the Latin word for "chance." But the fact that fortuitous sounds like a blend of fortunate and felicitous ("happily suited to an occasion") likely led to a second meaning of "fortunate, lucky," with the seeds of the newer sense perhaps planted by writers applying overtones of good fortune to something that is a random occurrence. The "lucky" use has been disparaged by critics, but it is now well established. Irregardless (cough), employing this sense in sterner company may be considered chancy.

Example: "The timing of the hit's resurgence proved fortuitous: She had nearly wrapped the recording for 2025 full-length Pressure... and the scorching hot single provided a push in the lead-up." — Mackenzie Cummings-Grady, Billboard, 11 Nov. 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Balbutient

Stammering.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

Break a leg

Meaning: The idiom 'Break a leg' is usually used in theatre to wish good luck to actors before they go up on stage.

Origin: The expression "Break a leg" has been common among actors since the early 1900s and presumably reflects a theatrical superstition in which wishing a person "good luck" is considered bad luck. There are some who argue that it originated when John Wilkes Booth broke his leg after assassinating President Lincoln in Ford's Theatre.

Example: "Danny's family told him to "break a leg" right before he went up on stage."
